"I urge you to travel – as far and as widely as possible. Sleep on floors if you have to. Find out how other people live and eat and cook. Learn from them — wherever you go."

Exploring a country by eating its food is an enriching way to travel. Beyond the thrill of tasting new flavours, through a destination's cuisine and dining habits travellers are granted a glimpse into the quiet rituals and small intimacies that make up the cultural patchwork of a country.

At Sampan Travel's Supper Club you will have the opportunity to try food from far-flung regions of the country as well as listen to people from those regions now serving this food in Yangon. In this way we hope that you will experience more of Myanmar and uncover more of Yangon too.

Guests will be treated to four courses from different regions of the country including the alluvial hills of Pindaya and the sweeping plains of Kachin. This will be followed by coffee from Mogok. You will be greeted with a cocktail from Wa State and Burbrit Beer will be served throughout.
